Planning permission granted to create new gardens

Peabody has been granted planning permission from the London Borough of Bexley to transform two hectares of public realm in Thamesmead.

The project will start on Portmeadow Walk in Southmere and Mangold Way and Redpoll Way in Parkview. Outdoor spaces will be created with new seating, colourful planting, improved pathway lighting and attractive landscaped gardens.

Dr Phil Askew, Director Landscape & Placemaking at Peabody said: "This is the first of many projects to improve our outdoor spaces. We're so pleased to see it moving ahead. Our plans are going to improve the walkways and green spaces with new plants that will attract wildlife like bees. We have had really positive feedback from our trials which we've fed into our final plan."

Deputy Leader and Cabinet Member for Growth, Cllr Louie French said: "This is more good news for Thamesmead and regeneration in the borough. It is a great scheme that will make a really positive difference to the look and feel of the area for local people once it is complete."

The project is expected to start early next year.

"Our plans are going to improve the walkways and green spaces with new colourful planting that will encourage wildlife and nectar feeding insects."

Thamesmead 50th Fund and location filming

Thamesmead has long been an attractive area for films, adverts and music videos to be filmed, and over the last two years all of our location filming has been managed by an experienced agency called Film Fixer. Since September 2017, Peabody has ring-fenced all of the fees we receive from filming and put them into a new community fund to celebrate Thamesmead 50th anniversary.

The 50th Fund was launched in February 2018 and has had over 40 applications to date, with 17 projects receiving funding. The fund is open to anyone in Thamesmead to support community and cultural activities and support local businesses. The fund is accepting applications until 16 November this year with final grants being decided in December.

Please visit our website www.thamesmeadnow.org.uk and click on 'Celebrating 50 years of Thamesmead' on the home page.

Filming in Thamesmead

Over the last year, Thamesmead has been the set of a new BBC Drama called Informer which had over 70 local residents as extras. Informer is due to come out this month! We have also welcomed Sam Smith and Skepta to shoot new music videos, Puma and Uniqlo to shoot their latest fashion collections, as well as supporting a few student films.

Future filming

We have become very selective about the type of filming we allow in Thamesmead, and we will only ever grant permission to films which will paint Thamesmead in a positive light.

We also request that all film shoots provide some form of work experience or paid opportunities to local residents where possible. If you would like to be involved in future filming, please email lisa.drew@peabody.org.uk.

However, we are aware that some unlicensed filming activity has been taking place without our permission. All of our teams have been briefed to look out for this and all film crews must carry a valid Film Fixer licence with them.

If you suspect an unlicensed film crew is operating please call Film Fixer on 0207 620 0391.

Upcoming programme on RTM 'Tales by Moonlight'
19 October to 16 November
Tune in to RTM by visiting www.RTM.FM
Story telling is an important part of many cultures with fables and tales shared and passed down through generations. In Nigerian culture, children and families gather around older people who share these stories. To celebrate, we're running a "Tales by Moonlight" show which is inspired by a Nigerian TV show of the same name. The shows will be narrated and broadcast on Radio Thamesmead.
Contact: Rachel Akindele on 07951993234 or rachel@bvsc.co.uk if you'd like to take part.

Landscape Institute conference

Dr Phil Askew, Director Landscape & Placemaking at Peabody speaking on his Green Infrastructure tour of Thamesmead

Over 70 experts in the landscape sector, came from all over the world to visit Thamesmead on Friday 7 September as part of the Landscape Institute's Valuing Landscape Conference 2018.

They came to see the unique landscape of Thamesmead and to find out about our plans for the blue and green spaces. They were very impressed by the amount of blue and green space available so close to London.

Richard Lewis from Active Planning said: "It was fantastic to see the landscape of Thamesmead for myself. There's lots of opportunity here to build on the unique waterways and parks and make them even more accessible for everyone."

Planning application for new civic building

At the end of August, we submitted a planning application to the London Borough of Bexley for a new civic building in Thamesmead. The civic building includes a new library which will be managed by the London Borough of Bexley. The library will be on the ground floor with the mezzanine and first floor being managed by the Peabody Community Foundation. The foundation will provide a range of community services and activities for local residents as well as flexible community spaces for fitness, leisure and event hire. It's hoped that a planning decision will be made before the end of this year.

Lensbury Way

Part of Lensbury Way will be closed when we deliver our regeneration plans for this part of the South Thamesmead Estate. The order was approved by London Borough of Bexley on the 14 August 2018 but we won't be blocking off Lensbury Way until an alternate road is built. A new road will be created onto Harrow Manor Way to give residents access to Lensbury Way.

Plans showing the new access route are available by visiting www.thamesmeadnow.org.uk and in the Information Hub at 216 Yarnton Way. The Information Hub is open every Tuesday and Wednesday and the first Saturday of each month between 11am - 4pm.

Willowbank Primary

We have recently finished a number of improvement works at Willowbank Primary School just in time for the new school year. Our contractor, Durkan, completed these works which included building a fully serviced cabin room and an allotment for the children. We've received really positive comments from the school and we hope they enjoy their new facilities.

Sounds of the Streets

On the 24 August we hosted 'Sounds of the Streets' at The Link which celebrated the upcoming talent in spoken word and urban music in Thamesmead. Over 60 people came along to support the performers, which included local talents Kidbookie and JamKvy, as well as Scufizzer. There were also performances from the Greenwich & Lewisham Young People's Theatre and two local teenagers who attended a 'spoken word' workshop at The Link prior to the event.

If you are interested in getting involved in events like this please contact Lisa Drew lisa.drew@peabody.org.uk

Thamesmead Parent's Forum

We'd like to hear from you about what would make Thamesmead better for children and families. This will help us to shape our plans. We've also set up a parent's forum which will meet on 15 October. Please contact Rachel Wicks on rachel.wicks@peabody.org.uk or 0203 828 3525 to find out more.

Summer of fun!

We had lots of different activities take place over the summer holidays and we'd especially like to thank all of our partners for their support. We had a fun-filled programme of sports and activities for children aged four years old and over which included football, cycling and cookery and much more.

Activating Community Spaces for Sport

We teamed up with Porchlight and Charlton Athletic Community Trust to run a series of sports sessions at the Sporting Club Thamesmead, Middle Way ball court and Claridge Way ball court. The sessions ran for five weeks over the summer break and almost 100 young people took part.

Sports development across Thamesmead

Our Sports Development team and Charlton Athletic Community Trust (CACT) teamed up with London Borough of Bexley to offer a week of football and sport activities to local people at Lesnes Abbey.

We had positive feedback from parents who thought it was a great idea to get children active during the summer holidays. They enjoyed watching their children take part in the free activities which were funded by the London Borough of Bexley. From the 30 July to 3 August we had 39 children aged between four and 12 years who took part in the activities and we had very similar numbers during each week of the summer holidays.

Footie fun

Sporting Club Thamesmead hosted four weeks of football courses which was attended by over 100 children aged five to 12 years. The sessions provide an opportunity for them to hone their technique and learn new skills. They then played matches and tournaments where they got to put it all into practice.

School holiday fun

If football wasn't your thing we also ran cookery sessions, family fun days and indoor rock climbing. In partnership with Greenwich Cooperative Development Agency, the theme of the family fun day was "healthy lifestyle" where over 120 children were able to take part in arts and crafts and sporting activities. Working with two schools in the Moorings, we ran a four-week summer programme with trips to the seaside and bowling. In total 303 children and 138 adults took part in the summer activities.
