New lease of life for lake

Southmere Lake is set to be reborn thanks to exciting plans unveiled by Peabody that will see it being cleaned up and the introduction of new plant and wild life.

First, more than 4,500 tons of silt is going to be removed to make the lake deeper and prevent the build-up of harmful algae.

The silt will then be used to establish a wetlands area on the east side of the lake to attract new bird and wildlife. This will also include new fishing platforms and a fish free channel to encourage biodiversity and allow other aquatic life, such as frogs and newts to flourish.

Dr Phil Askew, Peabody's Director of Landscape and Placemaking in Thamesmead, said:

"This work will breathe new life into the lake and surrounding area, making it a great place for the people of Thamesmead to enjoy again. It will also allow a much richer variety of plant and wildlife to grow and prosper here."

The lake is part of Peabody's wider regeneration of the area with green spaces being improved in Parkview and Southmere along with a new library, public square, boathouse and 860 homes, all joining the newly opened Lakeside Centre.

Jack Glover and Kat Wojnar showing off thier green thumbs

Everything's going green

Thamesmead's beautiful green spaces are to get a boost with the appointment of two new Peabody team members. Jack Gower is joining as Landscape Activation Manager, while Kat Wojnar is coming on board as Thamesmead's first ever Gardener-in-Residence.

Jack has been involved with the Tump 53 Nature Reserve for the past two years and in his new role he'll be finding new ways for people who live and work in Thamesmead to connect with the natural world.

Kat will be supporting residents, schools and local organisations with planting and growing. We hope the Gardener-in-Residence will also find interested groups in the town who are willing to start activities such as seed sharing and growing food.

Details of new initiatives will be announced soon and if you're interested in discovering more about Jack and Kat's plans email Jack.Gower@Peabody.org.uk.

From bard to verse

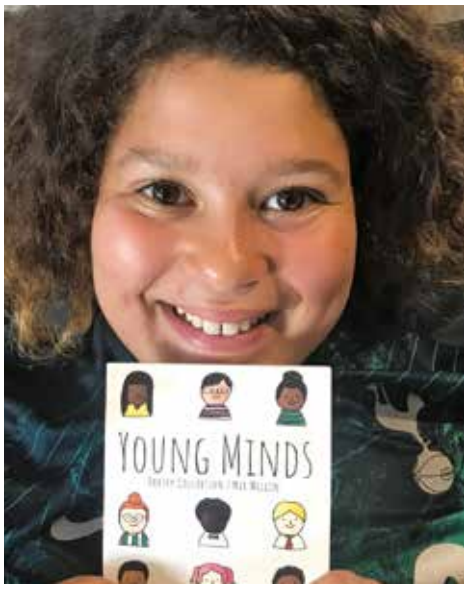

Earlier this year 11-year-old Mia Millin successfully applied to the Peabody Young Leaders Fund, which gives young talented residents a chance to create something special.

Mia produced, "Young Minds Poetry Collection", written by herself and other UK primary school pupils, covering topics such as friendship, inspiration and peer pressure.

She said: "I am so grateful to Peabody for giving me the opportunity to make my dreams of publishing a book come true. I hope other young people benefit from poetry as much as I have, from the feedback received, I think it certainly has!"

You can buy it from Etsy: etsy.com/listing/707712838/young-minds-poetry-collection.

If you're Interested in getting up to £500 to fund your project or event, The Young Leaders fund is open to anyone aged 11-25. Please contact Nadia.Kassab@Peabody.org.uk for more details.

New café link up!

The Performing Arts Centre at The Link has been expanding and now includes a new upstairs space in Arch D2 called The Mezzanine Café.

As well as teas and coffees, a menu of lunches, including homecooked hot food (with vegetation options), sandwiches, paninis and snacks is now available.

As well as serving lunch to the students attending the centre's daytime programme, delivered as London College of Performing Arts, the café is also a great place for group meetings or a cup of coffee with friends in welcoming surroundings.

Beside the seaside

Local community group for the Over 50s, Seniors in Touch (SIT), enjoyed a wonderful summer's day at Herne Bay thanks to funding from Peabody's Community Team.

A walk on the beach, sightseeing and, of course, fish and chips, made for it a day to remember for the 23 local residents who went along.

Seniors in Touch run a social group at Lakeview Court, Central Way, on Tuesdays between 11am–2pm, pop in when the group is running or contact@seniorsintouch.org.uk for more information.

Lakeview Court also offers many different activities for older adults such as exercise, healthy lunches and more. For more details please contact Centre Manager, Daniel Browne, on 0203 828 3888.

Why not volunteer to volunteer?

There is a wide variety of volunteering roles and numerous sporting activities happening in Thamesmead that would love to have your support.

If you're interested in giving up some of your time to help others, Peabody's volunteer team can help you to find a suitable placement in the community.

If you have any questions, want more advice or support with volunteering then please contact Jacqueline Thomas-Fasuyi at jacqueline.thomas-fasuyi@peabody.org.uk

Lots of Summer fun for everyone!

Once again we've run an exciting Summer Holiday programme, full of fun-packed activities ranging from cycling, cookery sessions, fun days, indoor rock climbing and beach trips to Chessington and Margate.

More than 65 residents went on the Chessington trip which was run by the Moorings Residents Community Group. And Peabody's Community Team arranged an outing for 83 children to Margate beach. Bow Arts Trust and Charlton Athletic Community Trust worked in partnership to run our family fun days, including arts and crafts, sports activities and lunch; this was attended by over 130 children. The youngsters had fun at the indoor climbing sessions, (run by Oakley Adventures) learning how to rock climb, as well as having a go at high ropes.

Parkview and Southmere improvements

Following feedback from residents we've now begun the improvements to the green spaces outside homes in Parkview and Southmere to make the area feel safer, more welcoming and provide better outdoor spaces.

Landscape contractor, idverde, has started making the changes which will take 10 months and include new lighting, paving and planting.

As the work will take place near the front of homes and school routes, we've asked idverde to keep any disruption to a minimum. However, if you do have any issues or concerns please contact the Resident Liaison Officer, Rabico Maxamed, on 07469 402 986, who will also be sending out newsletters and letters to keep residents informed.

Helping pain sufferers through gardening

Welcome relief for pain sufferers

Kairos Rehabilitation Trust is a medical charity which has recently started working alongside the Gallions Reach Health Centre at Heronsgate Surgery in Broadwater.

It provides therapy and rehabilitation for people suffering chronic pain. A range of treatments are on offer, which aim to reduce the burden of symptoms and to re-build self-confidence, self-esteem and offer sufferers greater independence.

The service also looks to tackle the problems that often go with chronic pain: other physical and mental health problems; difficulties with disability benefits and problems with medication.

Alongside the medical therapeutic treatments, the Kairos Trust offers a number of workshops for patients and others looking to broaden their social circles and try out new creative activities. They include: gardening; art; choir; music; wool-felting and aim to encourage new interests, friendships and skills.

If you would like to learn more about the groups, please contact Kairos' Coordinator, Ingrid Hermansen on 07712 810 108.

Home is where the art is

Thamesmead Festival 2019

Arts Council England has announced it will be investing £1 million in the borough of Bexley as part of its Creative People and Places programme.

The project is being led by a partnership between Peabody, TACO!, The Exchange and Orbit Housing. Over the next four year we will focus on empowering individuals in the community to create their own work, gain confidence in taking part in the arts and celebrate their cultural voice.

Adriana Marques, Head of Thamesmead Cultural Strategy from Peabody, said: "This is a fantastic opportunity to help us unlock the huge creative potential of people in Thamesmead and North Bexley. There is so much untapped talent and enthusiasm for grass-roots cultural activity."

The programme will be developed over the next six months, if you want to be involved or know communities who would benefit, contact: ThamesmeadNow@peabody.org.uk.

Community fund is back!

Last year, Peabody's Thamesmead 50th Fund, awarded £51,117 to 31 inspiring community focused projects.

Now, the fund is back with a new name, "Thamesmead Community Fund", and will again be jointly financed by fees from the filming that takes place in the town and the Peabody Community Foundation.

A resident panel will assess all applications and we'll be giving out grants of between £200 and £2,000 towards community-based activities.

Go to www.thamesmeadnow.org.uk to read the guidance notes and apply. The next deadline for applications is Monday, 18th November.

Focus on film

Thamesmead is one of the most popular filming locations in London for films, TV and adverts.

In the past six months we've had; Reebok, Nike, Adidas, FIFA, Paddy Power and even the government's Department of Education all filming in the town with the fees they paid going straight into the Thamesmead Community Fund to support local initiatives.

We have also run three workshops for residents, had eight very dedicated local runners and 24 extras work on productions. If you are interested in being part of future filming, please contact Lisa.Drew@Peabody.org.uk.

Let there be light

As part of our ongoing cultural programme and commitment to making the most of Thamesmead's green spaces, we are working on plans for a small but magical light festival for early 2020.

This will bring amazing light installations and activities to spaces such as Tump 53, our canals, lakes and parks. Plans are in the very early stages with dates and details being finalised by November so keep an eye on our website and social media for more details.

Scan plan

The Thamesmead Community Archive is still on the hunt for more nostalgic gems and extra pairs of hands to help us digitally scan materials.

We have already scanned more than 2,000 objects for the archive, but there is always room for more! In October we will be appointing an artist to work with us so we can work even more closely with local communities and capture the many great stories of Thamesmead.

Please email our Archive Manger at Sharon.Casey@Peabody.org.uk if you would like to get involved or have any material to share with us.
